

INSPECTOR BLAZ

Who is Inspector Blaz?

...a mad/insane character that escapes from an insane asylum.

Born in Eureka, CA Inspector Blaz has been under psychiatric treatment during his whole life. From age 4 voices in his head obscured and obliterated his identity to the point where his given birth name, Dragon Boldizar Mondragon, was never used again. After reading a Tin-Tin comic book, he took the moniker Inspector Blaz at age 5.

Doctors claimed the loss of his parents, in an auto accident at age 3, initiated little Draggie's mental instability (his mother was giving his father a blow job while driving on the California PCH; their vehicle flew off a cliff in the vicinity of Big Sur upon orgasm). Internal voices taught him to speak 7 languages and play a variety of instruments upside down. In the course of hanging and swinging from trees, he would sing a peculiar tune he composed at age 6

"White mice

Black cats

Pink elephants

Green giraffes

Brown cows

Red bulls

Cobalt whales

Fuchsia dolphins

Silver foxes

Blue dogs

Red squids

Yellow zebras

Purple horses

Brown butterflies

Green monkeys

Pink toads

Black mambas

White rhinos".

...which he would repeat over and over again to silence the voices in his head.

His custodians, all psychiatrists studying him as well as treating him with several experimental psychotropic drugs, would coax him down trees before he'd hurt himself. He particularly liked playing Bach on the piano while hanging upside down from an exercise bar. They discovered he had a photographic memory when he recited one million digits of PI (π) while playing Rachmaninoff's third piano concerto without sheet music.

Eventually under psychiatric care, he went to school procuring 4 academic degrees by age 17, all in the criminal justice and computer science fields.

By 22 his popularity was well rounded throughout the world due to the uncanny ability of solving mystifying Financial Internet crimes.

New voices in his head irrepressibly drove him to commit several financially related crimes acquiring more than $700 billion dollars in funds that the American and International authorities have never found.

He was committed to an asylum for the criminally insane in Dubrovnik after an American tourist saw him eating roasted pork at "El Cordero" restaurant in Segovia, Spain. Interpol was immediately notified and a criminal pursuit initiated. It took a full 2 years to capture him, eventually in Croatia, where he headed a gang of 40 financial Internet hackers. All jurisprudential details have been lost.

Croatian law judged him criminally insane with a 70-year unappealable sentence. The United States demanded an immediate extradition.

Within a month he escaped.

Unfortunately a brain aneurysm left him disabled for a year after his escape, helping to diffuse his trail from the authorities. His long line of trusty lovers and friends hid him in unknown cave in Tibet. During this time of recovery his mental abilities flourished even more with the help of the local Rinpoche (འཇམ་དཔལ་ལྷན་པོ་). Meditating 12 hours a day, his grey matter reorganized making his brain even more powerful than before.

His mantra:

“White mice, Black cats, Pink elephants, Green giraffes, Brown cows, Red bulls, Cobalt whales, Fuchsia dolphins, Silver foxes, Blue dogs, Red squids, Yellow zebras, Purple horses, Brown butterflies, Green monkeys, Pink toads, Black mambas, White rhinos”.

Concocting an idea to rip off the mob, he leaves for Russia where he gets involved with teenage hookers until they introduce him to their pimps and organizers.

The following timeline of his life, until his death, was obtained from different Interpol sources.

1. Escape From Asylum

- 1.1. Inspector Blaz, detained in a dungeon-like asylum for the criminally insane beneath a 12 Century Castle in Dubrovnik, escapes. Coaxing a guard into allowing him to hack into the guard's income tax returns, he gives the guard a sandwich peppered with a strong hallucinogenic obtained through the prison's black market. The guard thinks Inspector Blaz is his Mother and lends him a uniform. Blaz walks out.

2. Lost in Europe

- 2.1. Blaz takes the name Dr. Blast and begins a trek throughout European Internet cafes hacking several banks increasing his fortune to $1 trillion.

3. Meets Gorgeous Ukrainian Girl

- 3.1. Starts a sordid sexual relationship with Ukrainian girl he meets on a corner. Blaz, previously a virgin, finds love and sex opaque the voices in his head.

4. Ukrainian Girl Betrays Blaz

- 4.1. Girl betrays Blaz making off with $500 million Euros through an Internet scam. Blaz devastated, reverts to hanging upside down from an exercise bar while playing piano for a year.

5. Interpol Tracks Blaz

- 5.1. ...unable to catch Blaz, due to his uncanny eluding abilities, Interpol calls the CIA to help in his capture.
- 5.2. Blaz apparently suffers a brain aneurysm and is hidden by his friends in Tibet until recovery.
- 5.3. Leaves Tibet after a year and a half and travels to St. Petersburg, Russia.

6. Blaz Rips Off Russian Mob

- 6.1. Disguised as a Hassidic diamond trafficker, Blaz makes off with $200 million dollars and heads to Muzo, Colombia. With diamonds, Dollars, Euros and electronic bank accounts he buys the whole town including all the emerald mines within a 100-mile perimeter. Blaz changes his name from Dr. Blast to Dr. Blas.

7. Colombian Authorities Arrest Blaz

7.1. Blaz is thrown into a Colombian jail for 2 hours until Blaz is able to pay off the authorities with titles of all the emerald mines causing an emerald war as Blaz escapes into the Venezuelan jungle.

8. Blaz Infiltrates Chavez Government

8.1. Disguised as a Government Attorney, Blaz convinces Chavez to allow him to deliver funds to Cristina Fernandez (President of Argentina) via Blaz's web of financial Internet hacks. Blaz makes off with Venezuelan treasury causing Chavez's cancer and consequential death.

9. Blaz Meets Cristina Fernandez

9.1. Blaz and Cristina meet in a Buenos Aires tango club and convinces her to sell fake Ukrainian businessmen most of the Patagonia. Sale provokes Cristina's cancer.

10. Blaz Flees Into Uruguay

10.1. Blaz makes way into Uruguay via the "rapid-ferry" crossing the River Plate with Argentinean Patagonian titles. Sells titles to makers of Conaprole Dulce de Leche. Using the Dr. Blas moniker, deposits funds into an Isle of Man account and charters jet to Tokyo.

11. Blaz Meets Japanese Twins...Starts a Band

11.1. Blaz changes his name to Dr. Blitz, starts a Japanese novelty band with 2 Japanese Twins he meets on a corner: Yoyo and Yaya. Names the band Yayo. Interpol/CIA unable to track him down or find his funds. Stays in Japan 5 years getting both Twins pregnant at the same time. They both have female triplets within a week of each other. Blaz splits town leaving Twins and double triplets in tears...but very rich.

12. Blaz Returns to Eureka

12.1. Disguised as an Attorney, Blaz changes name to Dr. Blint and buys parents old home. Voices gradually return urging him to give up to the authorities. Suffers panic attacks and stress related syndromes. Begins to break down, can't play piano any more or concoct algorithmic formulas. Takes up playing the tuba under water at night, going up for air when needed. Neighbors get suspicious...

13. Blaz Arrested in Eureka

13.1. Breaking News: "International Financial Criminal Apprehended in Eureka, CA. Declared insane...committed to life in asylum for the criminally insane". Blaz begins feeling better.

14. Blaz Starts Band in Insane Asylum

14.1. Teaching other inmates to play several instruments, Blaz starts band, plays music again. Their first single hits No 1 on iTunes. Title: "I'm In...There Are Too Many People Out There!!!"

15. Blaz Dies at 110

15.1. After a lifetime in the asylum, Inspector Blaz dies of scurvy at 110. His refusal of ingesting citrus fruit and vitamins, due to acid reflux, causes his premature death. He was expected to live another year.

...and that is the strange and mysterious life of Inspector Blaz. Everyone he knew died before him.